Acknowledgement

Tourism is considered to be a major sector of the Sierra Leone economy, attracting foreign direct investment in recent years. The government has given greater attention to the sector under the Agenda for Prosperity (AfP) document; this is the more reason why this bulletin is important as it contains up-to-date information of the policy and activities of the tourism sector of the country.

The production of this bulletin was made possible through a partnership between Statistics Sierra Leone and the Ministry of Tourism through the National Tourist Board (NTB) under the National Strategy for the Development of Statistics (NSDS). Statistics Sierra Leone thanks the National Tourist Board together with Immigration Office for providing the Office Space for the Statistician attached to the Ministry of Tourism (Mrs. Yeabu Tholley) and for providing the data used in this report. Particular thanks go to Mr. Cecil Williams (General Manager) of the National Tourist Board for actively participating in the writing of this report.

We thank Mr. Abubakarr Turay, Director of Economic Statistics Division, for coordinating and editing of the report; and Mrs. Yeabu Tholley for compiling the data used in this report.

Specially thanks and appreciation go to all SSL staff who have one way or the other contributed immensely to the successful compilation of this bulletin.

We are also grateful to Government and all our Development Partners for funding SSL's data collection activities, especially this Bulletin.

Statistician General

1.0 INTRODUCTION

Tourism is arguably the largest industry and one of the fastest growing industries in the World today. It is estimated to represent over 4 trillion dollars, or 10 percent of the World's Gross Domestic Product (WTTC Stat.2006). The industry supplies over 230 million jobs and over $800 billion in tax revenues internationally (UN/WTO Stat.2007). Tourism is a major generator of foreign exchange revenues and facilitates regional and international trade and investment linkages. It is the principal Foreign Exchange earner and the backbone of the economy of many small states and island states like the Gambia, Seychelles, Maldives, etc.

Sierra Leone has strong potentials for tourism industry. It has excellent beaches and islands, mountains and rich biodiversity, interesting wildlife, friendliness of the people and rich socio-cultural heritage; and it occupies a special place in the world history of anti-slavery movement as 'the land of freedom' – hence the name Freetown of it's Capital City.

Since the 1980s, the country has been developing a small but, a thriving tourism industry. The end of the civil conflict in 2002 led to renewed arrivals by business travelers, as well as members of the Diaspora visiting friends and relatives. This in turn has stimulated some investment in the hotel and guesthouse infrastructure in Freetown. For example, the Chinese investment in Bintumani Hotel; the NASSIT investment in Tourism infrastructure and the construction of new hotels such as Hotel Bamoi, and Hotel Kimbima, etc by other domestic investors all form part of increased investment in the tourism sector in the country.

Within the framework of the National Strategy for the Development of Statistics (NSDS), the Government of Sierra Leone in 2008 approved the deployment of Statisticians from Statistics Sierra Leone (SSL) to eight line ministries including the Ministry of Tourism to help collect and compile statistical indicators in support of decision-making. This bulletin is part of the effort under the NSDS to provide data on the Tourism industry in Sierra Leone. This Bulletin is the first in a series of bulletins that will follow year after year. Consequently, data included in this bulletin have an official character. Therefore, any correction or changes received after this will be included in the next edition of the Bulletin. The main topics covered in this bulletin include data on tourist arrivals, country of origin of tourists, hotel occupancy rates, tourist expenditure etc.

1.1 The Legal and Strategic Context of Tourism Development in Sierra Leone

The Government of Sierra Leone recognizing the importance of tourism development established the Hotels and Tourist Board in 1964. In these early years, the growth and development of the tourism industry in the country was relatively slow and lacked a specific direction. There was no Act or policy to guide tourism development in the country. Key industry actors were left wholly unregulated. This state of affairs continued for close to a decade. In 1973, however, the GoSL decided to establish the Ministry of Tourism and Cultural Affairs (MoTCA) in order to harness the immense tourism potential in Sierra Leone, ensuring further socio-economic growth in a regulated framework. The Hotels and Tourist Board became an integral part of MoTCA in 1975.

1.2 The Ministry of Tourism and Cultural Affairs (MoTCA)

Ministry of Tourism and Cultural Affairs is responsible for policy formulation on tourism and culture. The Ministry's broad objectives are to promote sustainable tourism as a means of economic growth and socio-cultural integration and to promote Sierra Leone as an environmentally friendly tourist destination. It aims at building the image of Sierra Leone abroad as a country with a glorious past, and a vibrant future. It also aims at preserving, protecting and promoting cultural diversity with a view to reviving and strengthening national consciousness, understanding and appreciating the cultural heritage and Artistic creativity of the Sierra Leonean People.

1.2.1 Policy Objectives of the Ministry

The overall policy objectives of the Ministry of Tourism include the following:-

- Ensure that appropriate tourism policy including regulatory and legislative framework are put in place.
- Encourage the development of tourism activities that are geared towards enhancing Sierra Leone's image as middle and up-market destination as well as protecting the environment for sustainable tourism development.
- Encourage the provision of adequately trained and qualified manpower to service the Tourism and Hospitality industry at all levels by developing a comprehensive human resource development programme for the sector.
- Encourage investment in the sector by indigenous and foreign entrepreneurs.
- To ensure the preservation and conservation of the physical and cultural heritage site of the country.
- To pursue an effective market strategy for promoting Sierra Leone as a Tourism Destination worldwide.

On February 21st 1991, Sierra Leone's Parliament passed the Development of Tourism Act 1990 which aimed 'to make new and better provisions for the promotion and development of tourism in Sierra Leone'. This Act established the National Tourist Board (NTB) as a corporate body to be supervised by the MoTCA.

1.3 The National Tourist Board of Sierra Leone

On February 21st 1991, Sierra Leone's Parliament passed the Development of Tourism Act 1990 which aimed 'to make new and better provisions for the promotion and development of tourism in Sierra Leone'. This Act established the National Tourist Board (NTB) as a corporate body to be supervised by the MoTCA.

As articulated in Part II Section 9 of the Act, the general mandate of the NTB is to develop all aspects of the tourist industry in Sierra Leone, to promote its efficiency and a high international standard of facilities. The NTB is further responsible for undertaking a wide range of functions including research, experiments and operations to determine the impact of tourism policies, classifying tourist facilities including hotels, casinos and night clubs, registering and licensing of these tourist facilities, recommending the declaration of National Tourism Development Assets to the Government and providing or ensuring the provision of training for tourism industry employees, among others.

Importantly, the NTB serves as a bridge between the public and private sectors, and liaises with various institutions and key stakeholders in order to carry out its mandate effectively. Although no amendments have been made to the Act since it was approved by Parliament in 1991, critical recommendations were put forward in 2008 which indicate a pressing need to review and update the legislation.

The National Tourist Board began operating in November 1991. It is a semi-autonomous body and a professional arm of the Ministry of Tourism and Cultural Affairs. The European Commission (EC) through a Tourism Development Project provided financial support for the initial set-up and organization of the NTB.

1.3.1 Services Provided by the Board

The National Tourist Board plays a leading role in the promotion and development of Sierra Leone's tourism industry, particularly given the low capacity of the private sector in providing tourism related services. In the absence of private sector services, the NTB is filling the gap by undertaking a wide range of activities from training (both technical and managerial) to producing top quality brochures, websites and other promotional marketing tools. The main services provided by the NTB in Sierra Leone are as follows:

- Implementing Government tourism policies
- Developing and promoting sustainable tourism products
- Developing and executing appropriate marketing campaigns
- Designing and disseminating promotional materials
- Facilitating private investment in the tourism industry
- Assessing, licensing and classifying all tourist establishments

- Monitoring the operations of all tourist establishments to ensure quality services in compliance with ECOWAS Standards of Classification of Tourist Establishments.

1.4 New Tourism Strategic Action Plan

There are on-going policy review activities in the Ministry of Tourism and Cultural Affairs - for instance the Integrated Framework Tourism Project (IFTP) which has three components – 1). A Tourism Strategic Action Plan document has been developed and validated, 2). The Tour Guide Training Programme is on-going and 3). The Marketing Program implementation is also on-going, and is being sponsored by the World Bank, UNCTAD, UNDP, etc and being implemented by Ministry of Tourism and the National Tourist Board.

1.5 Strategic Policies/Regulations and Action Plan for the tourism Sector (2009 -2014)

1.5.1 Key Government Policies & Regulations

The government of Sierra Leone in its bid to develop the tourism industry in Sierra Leone has put in place the following strategic policies as enshrined in the 2009 Draft National Investment Policy:

1. 5 years exemption from corporate tax, limited to 150 percent of eligible expenditures of the original capital invested.

2. Duty free for new construction, extension or renovation of existing tourism related facilities; applicable to building materials, machinery, or equipment that is not easily available in Sierra Leone.

3. Exemption from payroll taxes for 3 years for up to six non-citizen employees with skills not available in the country.

4. Attractive tax incentives and services are also provided by other sectors that will encourage investment in the tourism sector.

5. Stakeholders & investor coordination to restore Bunce Island Facilities.

6. Develop exhibition on Slavery in Sierra Leone; networking with African-Americans in the Diaspora – Thus promoting ROOTS TOURISM.

7. Market awareness – Increase knowledge about Sierra Leone Tourism potentials nationally and internationally through aggressive marketing campaign.

1.5.2 Strategies/Activities of the tourism sector (2009-2014)

In order to achieve the aforementioned policies, the following strategies/activities have been stipulated in the validated Strategic Tourism Action Plan:

1. Target Tourism Product and Market Development around the Western Area Peninsula – a platform for job creation and income generation, and environmental conservation drive;

2. Institutional Capacity Building within the Ministry of Tourism, National Tourist Board and the Hotel/Tourism School to improve service delivery;

3. Government reforms to ease difficulties of investing in Sierra Leone; so that the reform will stimulate investment opportunities within the Tourism Sector;

4. Review and upgrade tourism related regulations – review of the 1990 Tourism Development Act, establishment of a Land Adjudication Mechanism for Targeted Tourism Development Areas.

1.6 Comparative Advantage of Sierra Leone as Unique Tourist Destination

Sierra Leone enjoys several advantages, which augur well for the development of a leisure, adventure and cultural heritage tourism segments. Some of these advantages are:

- Its outstanding crystal white and golden beaches with dramatic tropical and mountainous backdrop;

- Tropical environment and scenery (mountains, forests, rivers, coastline, islands) and nature (birds, flora and fauna). Sierra Leone has interesting wildlife, and could tap into the rapidly growing bird-watching niche tourism market;

- Proximity to Northern Europe – a 5-6 hour flight, which puts it closer than the Caribbean, the Maldives and Mauritius;

- Warm and fairly dry weather during the European winter,

- Interesting heritage and tribal history, which can be built into an attractive ‘story’ for Europeans, African-Americans and the Diaspora;

- Diamonds, which offer a special ‘attraction’ as well as a potential buying opportunity.

Despite the country’s ‘touristic’ advantages particularly its proximity to Europe, tourism in Sierra Leone has developed relatively slowly, partly as a result of the relatively unstable political environment that has existed in much of the post independence era. While other countries in the sub-region like Ghana, Senegal and the Gambia have a relatively viable tourism sector, Sierra Leone is still struggling with less than five hundred thousand visitors from Europe and America every year (NTB Stat.)

SWOT Analysis of the Sierra Leone Tourism Industry

General Tourism Product – Sierra Leone (Adapted from the World Bank Tourism Clusters Report)
	STRENGTHS	WEAKNESSES
Internal	• Diversity of the tourism product • Pristine and high quality beaches, hills and biodiversity • Unspoiled natural scenery • Richness of cultural heritage and historical background • Geographic proximity to market • Pleasant weather during peak season • Navigable rivers for water-based exploration • Relatively secured environment • Wealth of social capital • Hospitality and friendliness of citizenry • Low HIV/AIDS prevalence compared to other African countries • East of packaging with other nearby destinations • Growing interest by international hotel chains	• Isolated due to limited air, water and land transport • Lack of connectivity within country among various tourist sites • Lack of basic physical infrastructure • Lack of basic services including water, electricity and emergency healthcare • Historical legacies unpreserved due to encroachment or indifference • Absence of a basic supply chain • Somewhat disconnected from the feedback from clients and markets • Low capacity to market regionally or internationally • Lack of coordination among entrepreneurs and government • Lack of technical manpower • Incomplete and outdated legislative framework for tourism • Lack of adequate training in the area of tourism
	OPPORTUNITIES	THREATS
External Environment	• Successful peace-building process and sustained political stability gradually being recognized internationally • Global interest in the histories of anti-slavery movement originating from the United States • Recent recognition among sportsmen about the excellence of specialized fishing potentials in Sierra Leone • Opportunity to shape image as a newcomer especially with pristine and unspoiled tourist sites • Opportunity to capitalize on emerging niche market of ecotourism • Saturation of neighboring tourist destinations, e.g. The Gambia • Strong developmental interest locally and internationally, contributing towards the public goods and infrastructure • Formation of a new hotel owners' association and other business forums • Strengthening local knowledge of and pride in national heritage through tourism higher education programs	• Extremely unfavorable (and unfair) country image • Regional image due to drug-trafficking and petty crimes • Government and market failures related to specific goods and services • Price levels too high compared to other similar tourist destinations • Adverse environmental and social impacts if tourism is mismanaged, as has been the experience with mining industry • Underestimation of the potential of sub-sectors in generating employment and revenue

1.7 The Private Sector and the Tourism Industry in Sierra Leone

The private sector in recognizing the tourism potential in Sierra Leone, has demonstrated keen interest in the sector by establishing hotels, guesthouses, tourism facilitating agencies etc. Given the urgent need for employment creation and the limited capacity of the country's mining and manufacturing sectors to generate enough jobs, Sierra Leone would do better if it diversifies its economy through the development and promotion of a viable tourism industry.

The major opportunity for Sierra Leone is in the development of beach tourism. While there is considerable local entrepreneurship, there is a lack of capital for larger hotel projects, and a lack of experience in managing/marketing leisure hotels. Investment in this sector would probably have to involve some overseas investors; and could be stimulated by joint ventures in which the Government develops the site (the Western Peninsula offers the best prospects) and the local private sector provides some equity capital and local knowledge, while the foreign partner may bring expertise and additional capital, including the credibility needed to attract loan finance.

The substantial stock of existing hotel accommodation remains an issue for the future development of tourism as most of the stock requires improvement. Tax breaks, classification schemes and regulatory standards will help improve the stock, as well as taking some of it off the market. There is a substantial stock of small accommodation units, many operating with very low occupancies. There is a need for a scheme to help such units improve their standards, bring some of them together to gain economies in marketing, and help them appreciate where potential market segments exist, where they can be reached and what product they need to offer.

After many years of economic decline and civil war, there is a wide range of needs such as employment, revenue, quality infrastructure, electricity, water, etc. Some of these are gradually being improved as part of the general recovery program, while others will have to be managed by private investors. However, it will take a long time to tackle all the infrastructure problems, and in the meantime priorities have to be set. One recommendation to promote the tourism sector is to reflect the needs of the sector in the investment and maintenance programs of the relevant Ministries. For example, the construction of the road along the Western Peninsula will promote tourism. Although this project is a top priority for the tourism industry, its construction is largely out of the control of the tourism industry.

Specific Investment Opportunities in the Tourism Sector (2009 - 2014)

No.	Project Name	Brief Description	Indicative Cost (US $)
1.	Western Area Tourism Investment Plan	identify tourism products with market potentials; organize the products into thematic products and circuits; indicate cost implication to upgrade the thematic products into marketable packages]	150,000
2.	Small Grants Program for Product development	support 5-10 products development through Small Grants Programs – development of historic sites, nature trails, bird watching, interpretation centers, craft markets, etc	800,000
3.	Targeted Marketing to Support Product Development	quality website design, production of promotional collateral materials- circuit maps, guide books, brochures, etc; for promotional campaigns; organize local festivals	700,000
4.	Development of Tourism related Amenities	Small Hotel/Guest House Development, iconic Restaurant Development in and around Tourist Attraction Sites – Western Area and provincial towns and cities	100,000
5.	Enhancing conducive and reliable Transportation and Facilitation	Investing in providing Ferries, Hovercrafts, Helicopters, Catamarans or Speed Boats/Jet Ski to facilitate movement of tourists/visitors from Lungi International Airport to Freetown and other tourist destinations within the country	More than 5,000,000

2.0 TOURISTS/VISITOR'S ARRIVALS (2009-2012)

The number of arrivals includes all those persons disembarking at the Freetown International Airport in Lungi, which includes non-Nationals as well as Sierra Leoneans who are holders of dual citizenship. This category however, excludes Sierra Leone nationals returning from conferences, workshops, studies, medical check-ups and business trips from abroad. The data also excludes arrivals by road or sea. The data is disaggregated by year, place of origin of arrivals and the purpose of visit to Sierra Leone.

Figure 2.1 below illustrates the trend in the total number of visitors over the period 2009 to 2012. As shown on the graph the number of visitors increased steadily since 2009 and reached a peak in 2012, when the highest number of visitors to Sierra Leone was recorded.

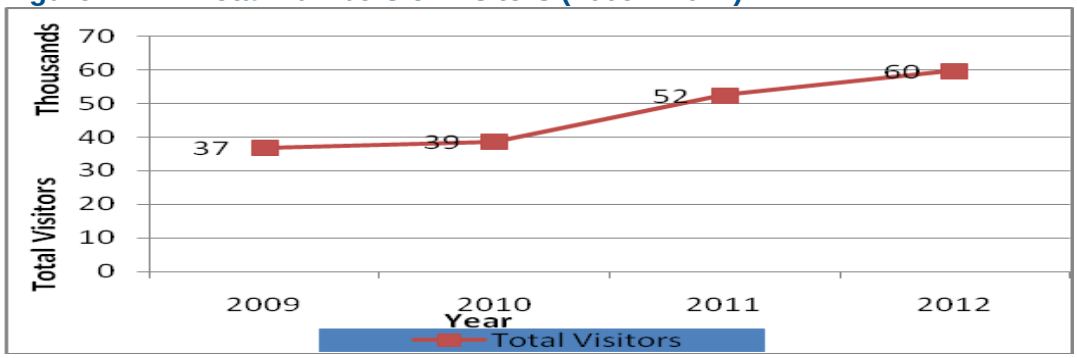

Figure 2.2 shows that between 2009 and 2012 Business was the main reason why visitors came to Sierra Leone; while 'holiday' and 'Other' were a popular reason over the period. However, 'other' as a reason comprises of a whole range of hidden reasons, including missing information on purpose of visit. Visiting friends and families is also a popular reason for visitors. However, among the expressed reasons for visiting the country, 'conference' is the least for the period under review. This could be attributed to a combination of factors including the insecurity created by the war, the lack of modern conference-related infrastructure, and the location of the main international airport in Lungi across the sea that limit access to Freetown, the capital city where most conference facilities are located.

2.1 Arrivals by Region

As shown on figure 2.3 below, there were more arrivals in 2012 than in the other years under review.

In each case however, arrivals from European countries were far more than arrivals from other regions; the re-branding effort of the Sierra Leone Government since the end of the war in 2002 so that the country is seen as a tourist destination coupled with its closer proximity to Europe than America might be responsible for the higher proportion from this region. Arrivals from ECOWAS countries constitute the second largest bloc, followed by America and Asia.

2.2 Overnight Stay in Hotels and Similar Establishments

The total number of overnights stayed in tourist establishments is the product of the number of nights spent by each tourist from the date of arrival to the date of departure and the total number of tourist accommodated in hotels or guest houses during the period. This information is important especially to the National Revenue Authority (NRA) because it is one of the key elements that determine how much revenue is generated from the tourism industry. About 10 percent of the amount paid by each tourist per room per night as hotel fees is paid to the NRA as tax which form part of the revenue generated by the tourism industry. Therefore for the same number of tourists per year the longer the tourist stay in the hotel, the more revenue is generated by the tourism industry. During the period under review, the average number of nights spent per tourist increased has remained at seven nights per tourist up to 2012.

From Figure 2.4 below it can be estimated that the total number of nights spent increased over time from 257,425 tourist nights in 2009 to 418,110 nights in 2012 which was the highest recorded over the period under review. Similarly, total number of tourists accommodated increased gradually over the period from 36,775 in 2008 to 59,730 in 2012. It should be noted that information in this section is limited to major/bigger hotels, motels and guest houses that have 15 or more rooms which are mostly concentrated in the regional headquarter towns.

Figure 2.4 Total Number of Tourists Accommodated Compared to Total number of nights Spent in Hotels

2.2.1 Hotel Occupancy Rates

It is also very important to measure the occupancy rate because it has implications for both income and employment in the tourism industry. Lower occupancy rate implies decline in demand for hotel rooms which means accommodating fewer guest. This trend will impact negatively on employment as hotel managers will likely cut down on payroll. The occupancy rate is calculated as total rooms sold divided by total number of rooms available in the hotel expressed as a percentage. Figure 2.5 illustrates occupancy rate for 2000 to 2008.

and guest houses from 2000 to 2004. On average, the occupancy rate dropped from 24.59% in 2000 to 20.91% in 2001 and further drop to 13.70% in 2002. There was a further decline by 3.21% point from 13.79% in 2002 to 10.49% in 2003 and by 0.79% point from 10.49% in 2003 to 9.7% in 2004. The continued fall or downward trend in the room occupancy rate in the early 2000s was as a result of the fact that the country just came out of civil war and foreign visitors were cautious to visit the country.

Since 2005, the tourism industry began to pick up as shown by the increases in the trend estimate of room occupancy rate for hotels, motels and guest houses from 10.8% in 2005 to 22.96% in 2006 and marginally increase by 0.87% point from 22.96% in 2006 to 23.83% in 2007.

In 2008, there was a decline of more than 200% in the room occupancy rate for hotels, motels and guest houses from 23.83% in 2007 to 7.6% in 2008 because data for the second half of 2008 was not made available to the tourist board by NRA who took over the collection of levies from NTB in July 2008. By collecting levies directly from the establishments the NTB collected and compiled statistics on occupancy rates, visitor profiles etc.

2.2.2 Registered/Licensed Establishments and Beds in Use (2009 to 2012)

The number of registered/licensed establishments operating in the tourist industry gives us an indication of the structure of the industry particularly if location factors and number of beds available are taken into consideration. The information is very important not only to the Ministry of Tourism and Culture but also to the general public and researchers. The information provided shows the rate at which tourism industry has expanded over the years. The end of the civil war in 2002 allowed for some investment in hotels and similar establishments not only in Freetown but in other parts of the country as well.

Figure 2.6 below shows the changes in the number of registered tourist establishments over the period 2009 to 2012. It could be seen that the number of registered tourist establishments increased from 200 establishments in 2009 to a peak of 221 establishments in 2010.There was a decline in 2011 to 192 establishments. A significant increase of registered tourist establishments was realized in 2012.

When analysed by type of establishments, figure 2.7 below illustrates the structure of the tourist industry in Sierra Leone. As shown on the graph, there were more guest houses than hotels registered in all the years. There are very few tourist handling agencies which is reflective of the volume of tourism related activities in the country. The number of registered night clubs and bars is low, probably due to the fact that many of these facilities operate in the informal sector.

There are more guest houses than hotels likely because many of the tourist establishments that offer accommodation services do not meet the standards established by the Sierra Leone Tourist Board to qualify for classification as hotels.

2.2.3 Total Beds Available and Beds in Used in Hotels (2009-2012)

The total number of rooms available in hotels and guest houses refer to all rooms available for rent as accommodation for tourists or guests including those rooms used by staff of these establishments and those temporally out of use. Beds in use refer to those beds available for the accommodation of guests or tourists. Figure 2.8 below shows total rooms available and beds in use in hotels and guest houses 2009 to 2012.

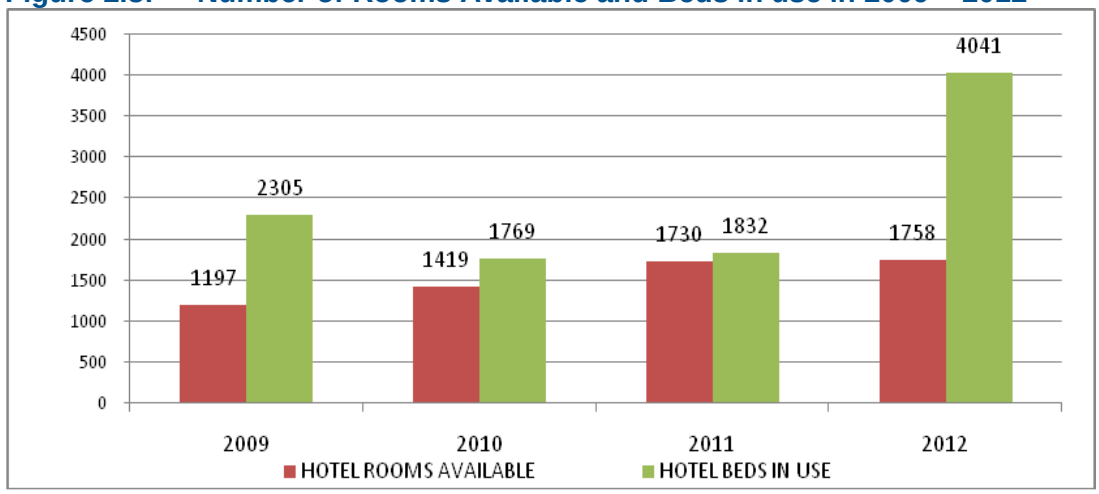
Figure 2.8: Number of Rooms Available and Beds in use in 2009 – 2012



As shown on figure 2.8 above, the number of beds in use decreased significantly from 2,305 in 2009 to 1769 in 2010 and increased to 1832 in 2011.A significant increase to 4041 was realized in 2012,which was mainly due to construction of new facilities and refurbishment of old ones .

3.0 TRENDS IN REVENUE GENERATED FROM REGISTRATION FEES

Tourism expenditure generates income to the host economy and can stimulate the investment necessary to finance growth in other economic sectors. Some countries seek to accelerate this growth by requiring visitors to bring in a certain amount of foreign currency for each day of their stay. Tourism is one of the top five export categories for as many as 83% of countries and is a main source of foreign exchange earnings for at least 38% of countries. Direct contributions are generated by taxes on incomes from tourism employment and tourism businesses, and by direct levies on tourists such as departure taxes. Indirect contributions come from taxes and duties levied on goods and services supplied to tourists.

For the purpose of this analysis, we present a picture of revenue generated from licenses/registration. The National Revenue Authority (NRA) took over the collection of revenue generated from levies in July 2008 (data for July 2008 to December 2012 was not available from NRA up to the time of compilation). Figure 3.1 below illustrates trends in tourism revenue generated from levies and registration/licenses fees over the period 2009 to 2012. Tourism revenue generated from licenses/registration sources increased significantly from year to year over the period.

Over the four year period from 2009 to 2012, the total sum of Le 498,115,000 was generated as tourism revenue in the form of registration fees/licenses. There was a significant increase from 64,525,000 million in 2009 to 192,450,000 million in 2012.

3.1. Employment in the Tourism Industry

The rapid expansion of international tourism has led to significant employment creation all over the world. For example, the hotel accommodation sector alone provided around 11.3 million jobs worldwide in 1995 (World Tourism record, 1998). Tourism can generate jobs directly through hotels, restaurants, nightclubs, taxis, guest houses, casinos and souvenir sales, and indirectly through the supply of goods and services needed by tourism-related businesses. Tourism supports some 7% of the world's workers.

Figure 3.2 below illustrates the growth in employment in the tourism industry in Sierra Leone over the period 2009 to 2012. Over the four year period, total number of persons directly employed in all tourist establishments was 16,899 persons. On a year to year basis, total employment in the tourism industry increased substantially from 2009 to 2012.

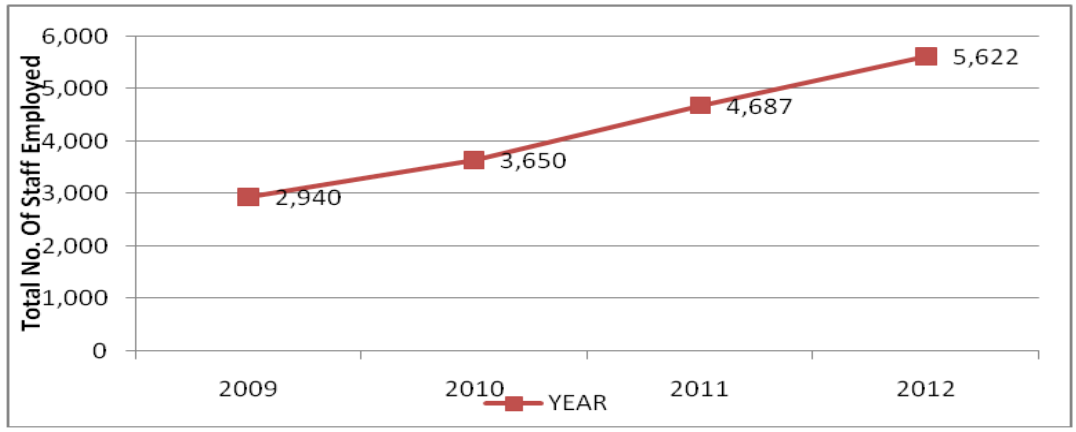

Figure 3.3 below shows that among the eight sources of employment in the tourism sector, restaurant, guest houses and hotels were the leading sources of employment in the Sierra Leone Tourism sector. What perhaps is missing from the data is further disaggregation into age, sex and a brief description of the type of jobs that are available in each source highlighted.

3.2 Expenditure by Visitors

Expenditures from international visitors more especially tourists generate income to the host economy and can stimulate the investment necessary to finance growth in other sectors of the economy.
An important indicator of the role of international visitors is its generation of foreign exchange earnings.

Income from international visitors is one of the top five export categories for as many as four-fifth of countries and is a main source of foreign exchange earnings for almost two-fifth of countries world over.

Direct contributions by international visitors especially tourists are generated by taxes on incomes from international visitors' related employment and businesses, and by direct levies on international visitors such as departure taxes.

Indirect contributions come from taxes and duties levied on goods and services supplied to foreign visitors. The World Trade Organisation estimates that travel and tourism's taxes alone (direct, indirect, and personal taxes) contributed over US$ 800 billion in 1998 and this figure it expected to double by 2010. This sector should never be underestimated by any government. Expenditure incurred by international visitors actually forms part of the income of that nation since the monies spent in that country become sources of income for most nationals connected to the international travel/tourist industry either by way of employment, business or otherwise.

Figure 3.4 below shows the total expenditure incurred by visitors who visited Sierra Leone from 2009-2012 classified by purpose of visit. Total expenditures comprised of expenses on accommodation, food, entertainment, transportation, souvenirs etc. The National Tourist Board (NTB) estimated total expenditure as a product of average night spent per visitor and average expenditure on all components.

As shown on figure 3.4 below tourism expenditure increased from year to year during the period under review for all visitors. Total expenditure increased slightly from 54.7 Billion Leones (USD 26 Million) in 2009 to 73.6 Billion Leones (27 Million USD) in 2010 .A significant increase from of 81.01Billion Leones (37Million USD) in 2011 to 42 Million USD in 2012.

From figure 3.4 above, we can see that visitors who came in for (Visiting Friends and Relatives) V.F.R. spent the least followed by those who came in for Conferences. The highest resources were spent by those visitors who are classified under the category 'Business', followed by those who came in for Holiday. This pattern cuts across from 2009 to 2012. The category 'others' include those visitors arriving in the country who failed to provide information on their purpose of visits. For correct classification, immigration officers should make sure that immigrants clearly indicate their purpose of visits on entering the country.
